NOTE: The 640th RTI 35M10 Human Intelligence Collector Course defines business casual as: Males: collared shirt; non-denim trousers; comfortable, non athletic, non open toe footwear. Females: conservative blouse; non-denim slacks/knee length skirt; comfortable, non athletic, non open toe footwear. Students will be conducting practical exercises in downtown Salt Lake City. All civilian clothing should be appropriate for such activities. Civilian clothing should be comfortable, loose fitting, conservative in style and should not draw undue attention. No tasteless, obscene or military style/logos clothing will be worn. Footwear should also be comfortable and sturdy as students will be walking all day.

Although hair style must meet Army Grooming Standards it is a good idea for soldiers wearing strict military hair cuts (high and tight etc.) to grow their hair to a length that blends well with business casual clothing. In other words, adopt a hair style that does not draw undue attention wearing business casual clothing while staying within Army Grooming Standards. Relaxed grooming standards are not authorized while attending the 35M10 Human Intelligence Collector Course.

You may be in areas of downtown Salt Lake City where you may need to use blue jeans or other clothing that is less casual than business casual. Be prepared to be flexible in your clothing choices. Under no circumstances should you wear military or other clothing (or openly carry military items) that draws attention to yourself.
